

A transdiagnostic clinical-biological map of severe mental illness

Invariants: no imputation (observed-data likelihood) • diagnosis is metadata • baseline defines, follow-up validates exists → organizes → persists → predicts → treatment boundary

A calibrated account: a real, stable continuum with a small group-level prognostic signal—positive and null results reported alike.